Pamela Boyer Sayre, CG, CGL and Richard G Sayre, CG

Pamela Boyer Sayre, CG, CGL, has presented in more than thirty states. She is co-coordinator for two Salt Lake Institute of Genealogy courses (Researching in Washington, D.C., Without Leaving Home and All About Land), coordinator for Samford University's IGHR Techniques and Technology course, and former instructor in Boston University's Genealogical Research Program. She co-authored Online Roots: How to Discover Your Family's History and Heritage with the Power of the Internet (Nashville, Tenn.: Rutledge Hill Press, 2003) and Research in Missouri (Washington, D.C.: NGS, 1999, 2007), penned the FGS FORUM's Digitools column for five years, and was editor of the Association of Professional Genealogists Quarterly. Sayre was director of education and publications for the National Genealogical Society, and she served on the board of both NGS and FGS.

Pam holds a Bachelor of University Studies with emphasis in English, Sociology, and History from Eastern New Mexico University, and completed some work toward a Masters in Computer Information Systems at Bentley College, Waltham, Massachusetts. She is a life member of the honorary society, Phi Kappa Phi. In her life before genealogy, Pam was a software documentation specialist and trainer, a personnel administrator, and a police detective.

Rick Sayre, CG, is a longtime researcher, lecturer and writer. His areas of interest include urban research methodology, mapping tools for genealogists, military records, immigration, the Ohio River Valley, and Western Pennsylvania, and he has lectured about these topics to genealogical societies across the United States. He is co-coordinator for two Salt Lake Institute of Genealogy courses (Researching in Washington, D.C., Without Leaving Home and All About Land), coordinator for Samford's IGHR Land Mapping: Using Maps course, and he teaches in IGHR's Advanced Methodology, Advanced Military, and Techniques and Technology courses.

Rick is a member of the board of the Virginia Genealogical Society and a former vice president of the National Capital Area Chapter of APG. A retired military officer who served 31 years in the U.S. Army, he holds an M.A. in Management Information Systems from George Washington University. He has returned to government service working for the Defense Department as a civilian.

Supporting Speakers

Pamela Stone Eagleson, CG(SM) of Kennebunk, ME is a researcher, writer, & teacher, conducting client research nationwide with an emphasis on New England, mid-Atlantic, and the Midwest. Winner of the 2004 National Genealogical Society's Family History Writing Contest, Pam has attended IGHR, NIGR, SLIG and VIGR. Member of many historical & genealogical societies including MoSGA, Pam's Missouri roots go back to the 1830s. She recently completed 3 terms on the Board of Directors of the Association of Professional Genealogists and is co-administrator of the Stone DNA surname project.

Beth Foulk: As an avid genealogist for more than a decade, Beth enjoys research & history inherent in the study of a family tree. Foulk is a volunteer and instructor at Midwest Genealogy Center. It is her interests in American History & Sociology that propel her to search deeper and ask more questions. Foulk frequently attends national conferences to further broaden her knowledge base. Enthusiastic & dynamic, she delights in the opportunity to share her passion with others.
